Logan Elm Tops Liberty Union For Mid State Title

Tony Crist tossed a three hitter and Jerry Scanlan cracked an eighth inning solo home run over the left field fence to give Logan Elm a 5-4 win and its first Mid State League Championship Friday at Liberty Union. The Braves are 8-1 in the league and share the crown with Pickerington. Logan Elm is 14-6 overall.

Crist turned in an impressive performance as he struck out 11 Lion batters and walked six.

Hodge was the losing pitcher. He walked four, fanned one and allowed 11 hits.

Logan Elm lit the scoreboard first scoring two runs in the second inning. With two outs, Mark Skinner singled, Crist doubled, Scanlan singled to drive in Skinner, and Randy Pontius followed with a single to score Crist.

Liberty Union put all four of their runs across the plate in the top of the fifth on two walks, a hit batsman and two singles.

The Braves narrowed it 4-3 in the bottom of the inning when Chuck Cave lined a shot over the right-centerfield fence.

The local lads then tied it in the sixth when Jerry Scanlan reached first on a fielder's choice, went to third on Pontius's single and scored on an error.

That left the stage open for Scanlan's blast, coming with two out in the eighth. Crist then "mowed them down" in order in the bottom of the inning, striking out the final two to preserve the lead and give the Braves a well-earned victory.

Scanlan led the Braves as he scored two runs and drove in two more, hitting the homer and two singles.

Chuck Cave had a home run and a single. Tony Crist cracked a double. Randy Pontius had three singles and a run batted in. Tim Fouch lined two singles and Mark Skinner hit a one-bagger.

Kevin Glasspoole led the Lions with two of his team's three base hits.

Hughes Will Proceedings Started

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Former Howard Hughes aide Noah Dietrich has begun legal proceedings on the purported Hughes' will, but an attorney for Dietrich says "I imagine we will all be long dead when the estate of Howard Robard Hughes is finally settled."

"It may take generations," added Harold Rhoden, as he filed a probate petition in Nevada state court Friday on behalf of Dietrich.

Dietrich, 87, a former Hughes confidant, was named as executor for the eccentric billionaire's empire in the scrawled set of instructions delivered here Thursday by Mormon officials.

Meanwhile, Henry Silver, a Los Angeles handwriting expert familiar with Hughes' penmanship, examined on Friday the three-page faded document discovered Tuesday in Mormon Church headquarters in Salt Lake City. He said he was "positive beyond doubt" that it was authentic.

Silver, who served as a handwriting analyst in three court matters relating to Hughes, also said a handwritten manuscript, which Clark County officials described as a novel, was written by Hughes.

The Associated Press obtained three of the manuscript sheets, which, like the mysterious will, contained numerous spelling errors.

Incoherent and rambling in many parts, the manuscript relates the story of a hard-working man who had difficulty dealing with women, money and life in general.

It was also disclosed Friday that former Texas Gov. John Connally had visited the 25th floor of Mormon Headquarters in Salt Lake City on Tuesday, just three hours before the mysterious Hughes document appeared on a desk on the same floor.

Connally, a director of a Texas bank that had been searching for a will to the Hughes estate, could not be reached for comment. Mormon officials said, "We still have no reason to believe there's any connection between his visit and the finding of the document."

Dietrich, after initially expressing doubt over the document, said he, too, was completely convinced it was written by the man who fired him 19 years ago.

However, he said he doubted the story of a service station owner named as a benefactor in the purported will.

Melvin Dummar of Willard, Utah, had said he gave Hughes a lift in 1968 after finding the billionaire wandering along a dirt road.

Dummar, 31, canceled a news conference Friday after his father said he suffered an emotional collapse and was under a doctor's care.

Dietrich also said he believed the estate was worth about $1.5 billion. Previous estimates have ranged as high as $2.5 billion, but Dietrich said Hughes took a large loss when he sold Hughes Tool Co. for $130 million.

The imprecise wording of the purported will seemed likely to provoke challenges to its instructions.

"We'll probably hear from a lot of people who would like to be named in the will but aren't," said Rhoden.

Living Costs To Become Top Issue

CLEVELAND (AP) — United Rubber Workers President Peter Bommarito says talks will focus on the cost of living (COL) issue when representatives of the striking URW resume negotiations with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. Monday at 2 p.m.

Bommarito and his management counterpart met privately with a federal mediator for a couple of hours after Friday's negotiating session adjourned with no apparent progress. Bommarito said he couldn't discuss the meeting but that "when we resume Monday I assume we will concentrate on COL."

Without a cost of living agreement, Bommarito said, "we're just spinning our wheels."

The URW struck four major tire companies April 21 after contracts expired, but the union has concentrated on Firestone in negotiations. Talks with Goodyear, B.F. Goodrich and Uniroyal have taken a back seat. Firestone President Richard A. Riley sent a letter to that company's 17,000 striking employees Friday saying the firm's cost of living allowance proposal was patterned after the one accepted by the Rubber Workers in Canada in 1974.

However, Bommarito called the proposed formula inadequate, saying the URW is demanding that the rubber industries match the formula won by the United Auto Workers.

Data Indicates World Famine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Millions in India face starvation, China will suffer a major famine every five years and Russia will lose a major wheat growing area because of catastrophic changes in the earth's climate, an internal CIA report says.

The anticipated changes, which will return the climate on this planet to a condition similar to that of 100 to 400 years ago, will cause economic and political upheavals "almost beyond comprehension," the report says.

Based on a climatic change study by Reid A. Bryson of the University of Wisconsin, the report says the world's climate is cooling and will revert to conditions that prevailed between 1600 and 1850.

The report is to be made public

Monday. A copy of it was obtained Friday by The Associated Press.

In an addendum to the report, Bryson says the climate changes are the result of worldwide drops in temperature caused by amounts of volcanic ash, carbon dioxide and man-made pollution in the atmosphere.

"The change of climate is cooling some significant agricultural areas and causing drought in others," the report said. "If, for example, there is a Northern Hemisphere drop of one degree centigrade it would mean that India will have a major drought every four years and can only support three-fourths of her present population."

"The world reserve would have to supply 30 to 50 million metric tons of grain each year to prevent the death of 150 million Indians."

"China, with a major famine every five years would require a supply of 50 million metric tons of grain. The Soviet Union would lose Kazakhstan for grain production, thereby showing a yearly loss of 48 million metric tons of grain."

"Canada, a major exporter, would lose 50 per cent of its production capability and 75 per cent of its exporting capabilities. Northern Europe will lose 25 to 30 per cent of its present production capability while the Common Market countries would zero their exports," the report says.

The CIA report basically was concerned with possible political and economic threats to U.S. security from such drastic changes. It did not go into detail about possible alterations in the United States.

But the addendum said if the nation's climate changes as predicted it would mean the northern half of the country would get more rain, while the Gulf Coast, northern Rockies and Southwest would be drier. It said this probably would not significantly affect food production.

But elsewhere, the report drew a grim picture of the future.

"The new climatic era brings a promise of famine and starvation to many areas of the world...The economic and political impact of major climatic shifts is almost beyond comprehension."

It also said starvation and famine would lead to social unrest and global migrations of populations.

One entire section of the CIA report was kept secret. Under the section titled "recommendations," was only one word: "deleted."

Jackson Bowing Out Of Campaign

SEATTLE (AP) — Five years after he began his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination, Henry M. Jackson appears to be admitting that he probably won't get it.

Sources close to the senator's money — and vote — deficient campaign say Jackson is ending his active candidacy.

He planned to return to his home state of Washington today, and gloomy campaign aides arranged for him to talk about his political future at a press conference here.

Jackson will announce his retirement to a status in which he will be "available if asked" to accept the Democratic nomination, the sources say.

The prospect of that announcement was enough to cause the kind of activity not seen at Jackson offices here since his only real primary victory.

"The phones haven't been going like this since we won in Massachusetts," a volunteer said Friday.

Jackson "will reduce activities in the primaries because of the lack of campaign money," said Washington state Democratic Chairman Neale Chaney.

Another politician close to the Jackson organization said the senator's campaign is "flat broke, and probably like most campaigns, they're a couple of hundred thousand dollars in debt and don't know it yet."

'Country Spring Time' Extension Meet

The ten Extension homemaker clubs held their annual spring countywide meeting this week, choosing the theme "Country Springtime."

The session opened with a tribute to the bicentennial. Emily Berry narrated a historical flag presentation, assisted by Evelyn Hoover and Magdalene Fee.

After welcomes by Ann Morehart and Beverly Bechtel, County Extension Agent, the Extension Homemaker Chorus, headed by Pat Meyer, led group singing of traditional American songs. Piano players were Susan McClelland and Mildred Turner.

The speaker was Mrs. Marvin Jones of Kingston, who brought an exquisite display of dried, arranged flowers. She spoke on four basic methods of preserving flowers, and added many personal tips for artistic arrangements. There were many questions from the audience.

Louise Drummond installed new Home Council officers for the coming year. The officers, who will take office July 1, are: President—Emily Berry; Vice President — June Timmons; Secretary — Helen Kittle; and Treasurer — Judy Julian. Dottie Roberts and Mae Ross are Home Council Health Chairman and Vice Chairman, respectively.

Part of the program included a lovely open display of 33 quilts. Each person registering cast a ballot for her choice of "Most Outstanding Quilt." The winner was Maude Hedges, who displayed a quilt called "daisies." There were large orange and gold daisies applied on a white background. All quilts displayed were lovely; many were antique and had extremely intricate and detailed work.

Cressie Hall and Frances Rose awarded twelve door prizes, including ten gingham daisy pillows handmade by club members, and two gingham flower centerpieces made by Ruth Thomas. Winners of the door prizes were: Helen Hundley, Frances Bidwell, Susan McClelland, Martha Peters, Evelyn Johnson, Elizabeth Beatty, Helene Damron, Virgie Vause, Kathryn Clark, Sue Mink, Helen Kittle.

Two officers, Ann Morehart and Mary Clark, were honored for past work by the presentation of colorful planters.

ASCS Reminds Grain Producers Of 1976 Crop Loan Programs

Roy Dunkle, chairman, Pickaway County ASCS Committee, reminds producers that anniversary type loans will be continued for wheat and feed grains, and reinstated soybean loans, for the 1976 crops.

"Anniversary loans offer producers an opportunity to obtain cash and hold their crops for later sale and to even out marketings," Dunkle explained. "Such loans mature 11 months following the end of the month in which the loans are made."

Dunkle said that although soybean loans were not available for the 1975 crop, they will be in effect this year, and may be obtained, along with corn and sorghum, from harvest through May 31, 1977. Loans for wheat, oats, barley and rye may be obtained from harvest through March 31, 1977.

4-H Horse Council Meets

By BARBARA J. CUMMINS

The Pickaway County Horse Council held their meeting on April 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Tom Spiller gave a report on the judging team, and feels that he will have enough persons to participate in this plan. Due to stall space, four clubs decided to come in on Sunday and four clubs on Wednesday.

This year the horse show will be on Friday, August 6th.

The prefair show bills were set up with one-third of all classes offered in the morning session. This will be the clinic portion of prefair. Afternoon classes will be an open youth show, with remaining classes also being offered. Since May 15th presents a problem for the prefair judging team because of the All American Youth Show, it was decided to move the prefair date to May 8th.

The size of the poster required by the non-horse project children should be approximately 18x24 inches and must be on display by Sunday noon. The booth should be built on Saturday afternoon, and it will be in the coliseum with the miscellaneous projects.

On March 23rd the Pickaway County 4-H Horse Council meeting was called to order by president, Chet Yapple. He reported on the committee meeting with the Fair Board. The Fair Board approved the right to bring horses to the fair on Sunday or Wednesday of fair week; however, because of horse stalls for harness horses, the entire club must decide on the day and come in as a club. All horses that come in on Sunday or Wednesday must stay through the horse show.

It was discussed and decided that 10 place ribbons would be given during the morning portion of the prefair show. Barbara Cummins agreed to donate a high point boy and girl trophy for the afternoon show with six place ribbons for the afternoon show.

Chet Yapple assigned the following clubs to handle the work and make sure all equipment is available:

May 8 — Rough Riders, Equestrian, Cloverleaf Riders and Colt & Equitation;

June 12 — Commancheros and C.C. Riders;

July 10 — Cloverleaf Saddle and Spur, Westfall Wranglers and Ramblin Riders.

The food menu will be hot dogs, ham salad sandwiches, cake, pie and choice of fruit punch, pop, coffee, etc.

We will send one pony, one western horse, one English horse and one contest horse to the State Fair.

After the program, refreshments of decorated cupcakes and pink lemonade were served to guests. The cupcakes were decorated with colorful spring flowers by Emily Berry, June Timmons, Carol Smith and Sandy Dixon. Mrs. Dixon also designed the "Country Garden" illustrations on the program cover.

Pin Oak Yellowing Due To Deficiency Of Iron

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Ever thought of giving your pin oak tree a dose of Geritol?

Well maybe not, since Geritol is an iron supplement for humans. But, scientists have a "Geritol" capsule for pin oaks. The capsule contains Ferric Ammonium Citrate and can be injected directly into the tree.

Chlorosis, the name used to describe an iron deficient tree, causes general yellowing. First signs, noted early, include yellowing between leaf veins with veins remaining green, says Elton Smith, Extension Horticulturist at The Ohio State University. Later, particularly in severe cases, leaves turn yellow, followed by circular brown spots and leaf dropping. A branch or several branches may show die-back with the deficiency sometimes causing death of the tree.

High pH level — 6.5 and above — is a cause of chlorosis. This is common from Columbus west. East of Columbus, the problem is not as severe, Smith says. Soils that are continuously wet due to a rainy spring or other reasons is another cause, and a high soil mineral element level such as phosphorus can cause chlorosis.

Oaks susceptible to chlorosis are Pin, White, Swamp White, Willow and Eastern Red. All show the previously described symptoms except the Eastern Red, which has brown areas between leaf veins rather than yellowing.

Control includes treating the soil, spraying the foliage, or changing the soil pH, in addition to the new capsule method. Treating the soil and spraying foliage are both temporary, lasting about one year. Changing the soil pH would be more permanent, but would be extremely difficult to perform, as the soil underneath the root system would have to be treated, too. So, the new product containing Ferric Ammonium Citrate and sold as Iron Medicaps is the easiest method of control. The capsules prevent chlorosis from two to four years.

To insert capsules, drill 1/2-inch diameter holes 2 to 4 inches apart in a spiral pattern around the base of the trunk 1 to 3 feet above the soil. Important, be sure the holes are drilled to proper depth — through the bark into the wood deep enough so head of capsule is beneath the cambium layer (area between bark and wood). This insures maximum effectiveness and proper healing of holes. Make holes with a drill or hand brace. Bits properly marked for depth of holes are provided with capsules.

Those who do not want to do the job themselves may call professional arborists or landscape companies who have servicemen available to do the job.

The earlier one can get the capsules inserted, the better, Smith says. April is a good time, so do the job now. Don't wait until leaves start to turn yellow. Early spring insertion of capsules is best not only for effectiveness but also for faster healing of holes.

Advantages of using the capsule method are: treatment lasts several years, less expensive, takes less time to treat, and you do not need expensive aerial-type spray equipment to treat your tree. A disadvantage, of course, is drilling holes in the tree. However, properly timed and inserted capsules permit wounds to heal in one season.

News For Homemakers

Can you remember the little books in grade school that had heroes whose motto was "I can do it!" Thinking you have ability is very important to achievement, or lack of it. Many children don't achieve because they are constantly told "You're too little" or "Here, let me do it for you."

In one graduate class I now have, we are studying the effects of self-concept on learning. Children who feel good about themselves, who are told they can learn, respond so much better to learning. Students have been known to fail in school because of unfortunate beliefs about themselves, as in this example reported by Coach Darrel Mudra of Western Illinois University.

"What a boy himself about himself is really important. We had a student at Greeley who scored in the 98 percentile on the entrance test, and he thought that he had a 98 IQ. And because he thought he was an average kid, he knew college would be hard for him. He almost failed in his first term. He went home and told his parents, 'I don't believe I'm college caliber,' and the parents took him back to school and talked with the college counselor. When he found out that 98 percentile score meant that he had a 140 IQ, he was able to do 'A' work before the year was over."

How we feel about ourselves is so important, not only in learning, but in setting goals, athletic development, mental health, delinquency, and industrial productivity. We often need to "think we can" before we even try.

Having bad feelings about one's self can have influence in negative ways, too. Dr. Walter Reckless and his colleagues at Ohio State University carried out a series of studies on the self-concepts of delinquent and non-delinquent boys. Among their findings are the following: The 12-year old "good" boy in a slum area thinks of himself as staying out of trouble, of his friends as keeping out of trouble, of himself as going to finish school, and of his family as a good family. The mother of the "good" boys also had favorite perceptions and expectations of their sons. On the other hand, the so-called "bad" boys, spotted by his sixth-grade teacher as headed for trouble and for dropout, has the opposite perception of himself. He perceives himself as headed for trouble, of his friends as delinquents, and of his family as a "bum" family. The "bad" boy's mother echoed his perceptions. In a follow-up study at the end of four years, these investigations found that the "good" boy was practically delinquency free, while 40 per cent of the "bad" boys were in the juvenile court one to seven times.

These ideas could carry over to all parts of life. How many of us behave certain ways because we feel others believe in us? If we think of ourselves as being a good cook, then we try so much harder to live up to our own standards. But what woman will be a good cook if constantly told she is not? How are you affecting others? Are you giving them positive feelings about their abilities? Or are you somehow saying dum dum...

'Country Spring Time' Extension Meet

The ten Extension homemaker clubs held their annual spring countywide meeting this week, choosing the theme "Country Springtime."

The session opened with a tribute to the bicentennial. Emily Berry narrated a historical flag presentation, assisted by Evelyn Hoover and Magdalene Fee.

After welcomes by Ann Morehart and Beverly Bechtel, County Extension Agent, the Extension Homemaker Chorus, headed by Pat Meyer, led group singing of traditional American songs. Piano players were Susan McClelland and Mildred Turner.

The speaker was Mrs. Marvin Jones of Kingston, who brought an exquisite display of dried, arranged flowers. She spoke on four basic methods of preserving flowers, and added many personal tips for artistic arrangements. There were many questions from the audience.

Louise Drummond installed new Home Council officers for the coming year. The officers, who will take office July 1, are: President—Emily Berry; Vice President—June Timmons; Secretary—Helen Kittle; and Treasurer—Judy Julian. Dottie Roberts and Mae Ross are Home Council Health Chairman and Vice Chairman, respectively.

Part of the program included a lovely open display of 33 quilts. Each person registering cast a ballot for her choice of "Most Outstanding Quilt." The winner was Maude Hedges, who displayed a quilt called "daisies." There were large orange and gold daisies appliqued on a white background. All quilts displayed were lovely; many were antique and had extremely intricate and detailed work.

Cressie Hall and Frances Rose awarded twelve door prizes, including ten gingham daisy pillows handmade by club members, and two gingham flower centerpieces made by Ruth Thomas. Winners of the door prizes were: Helen Hundley, Frances Bidwell, Susan McClelland, Martha Peters, Evelyn Johnson, Elizabeth Beatty, Helene Damron, Virgie Vause, Kathryn Clark, Sue Mink, Helen Kittle. Two officers, Ann Morehart and Mary Clark, were honored for past work by the presentation of colorful planters.

ASCS Reminds Grain Producers Of 1976 Crop Loan Programs

Roy Dunkle, chairman, Pickaway County ASCS Committee, reminds producers that anniversary type loans will be continued for wheat and feed grains, and reinstated soybean loans, for the 1976 crops.

"Anniversary loans offer producers an opportunity to obtain cash and hold their crops for later sale and to even out marketings," Dunkle explained. "Such loans mature 11 months following the end of the month in which the loans are made."

Dunkle said that although soybean loans were not available for the 1975 crop, they will be in effect this year, and may be obtained, along with corn and sorghum, from harvest through May 31, 1977. Loans for wheat, oats, barley and rye may be obtained from harvest through March 31, 1977.

4-H Horse Council Meets

By BARBARA J. CUMMINS

The Pickaway County Horse Council held their meeting on April 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Tom Spiller gave a report on the judging team, and feels that he will have enough persons to participate in this plan. Due to stall space, four clubs decided to come in on Sunday and four clubs on Wednesday.

This year the horse show will be on Friday, August 6th.

The prefair show bills were set up with one-third of all classes offered in the morning session. This will be the clinic portion of prefair. Afternoon classes will be an open youth show, with remaining classes also being offered. Since May 15th presents a problem for the prefair judging team because of the All American Youth Show, it was decided to move the prefair date to May 8th.

The size of the poster required by the non-horse project children should be approximately 18x24 inches and must be on display by Sunday noon. The booth should be built on Saturday afternoon, and it will be in the coliseum with the miscellaneous projects.

On March 23rd the Pickaway County 4-H Horse Council meeting was called to order by president, Chet Yapple. He reported on the committee meeting with the Fair Board. The Fair Board approved the right to bring horses to the fair on Sunday or Wednesday of fair week; however, because of horse stalls for harness horses, the entire club must decide on the day and come in as a club. All horses that come in on Sunday or Wednesday must stay through the horse show.

It was discussed and decided that 10 place ribbons would be given during the morning portion of the prefair show. Barbara Cummins agreed to donate a high point boy and girl trophy for the afternoon show with six place ribbons for the afternoon show.

Chet Yapple assigned the following clubs to handle the work and make sure all equipment is available:

May 8 — Rough Riders, Equestrian, Cloverleaf Riders and Colt & Equitation;

June 12 — Commancheros and C.C. Riders;

July 10 — Cloverleaf Saddle and Spur, Westfall Wranglers and Ramblin Riders.

The food menu will be hot dogs, ham salad sandwiches, cake, pie and choice of fruit punch, pop, coffee, etc.

We will send one pony, one western horse, one English horse and one contest horse to the State Fair.

After the program, refreshments of decorated cupcakes and pink lemonade were served to guests. The cupcakes were decorated with colorful spring flowers by Emily Berry, June Timmons, Carol Smith and Sandy Dixon. Mrs. Dixon also designed the "Country Garden" illustrations on the program cover.

"As in the past, the producer has the option of storing his grain under loan either on the farm or in an approved warehouse." Warehouse-stored loans will be disbursed on the basis of the full county loan rate which means the producer will have to prepay storage to the maturity date of the loan.

Dunkle noted that to be eligible for a warehouse-stored loan, the producer needs to store his grain in a warehouse approved by Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC). The producer must obtain a warehouse receipt which is used by the ASCS county office to compute the loan based on the specific quantity and quality shown on the receipt.

Another requirement for loan eligibility is that the warehouse receipt show storage has been prepaid to the last day of the eleventh month following the month in which the warehouse receipt was issued. The loan will mature on that date regardless of when the loan is made.

If the producer does not wish to obtain a loan until sometime after the warehouse receipt is issued, he has two options by which he may obtain the full 12 months loan period: 1) he may return to the warehouse and pay the additional storage required to obtain the 12 months loan; or 2) he may, at the time of deposit of his grain, prepay storage charges for 13 or more months, depending on the date he intends to take out the loan.

To obtain a farm-stored loan, Dunkle said, the producer needs to certify at his ASCS county office the number of bushels of grain he has in suitable storage. The loan amount will then be computed by multiplying the eligible quantity of grain in storage time the loan rate for the county in which the grain is stored. The loan amount for shelled corn & small grain is 90 per cent of the quantity stored in the bin; and for ear corn is 85 per cent of the quantity in the crib.

For a farm-stored loan, the producer has the option of taking a loan on a quantity of grain less than the total eligible and of paying off all or a part of the loan at any time during the loan period. A requirement under the loan agreement is that the producer maintain the quality of the loan collateral and that he notify his county office prior to using or selling any of the grain pledged for loan.

Applicants for ASCS programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed, or national origin.

Pin Oak Yellowing Due To Deficiency Of Iron

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Ever thought of giving your pin oak tree a dose of Geritol?

Well maybe not, since Geritol is an iron supplement for humans. But, scientists have a "Geritol" capsule for pin oaks. The capsule contains Ferric Ammonium Citrate and can be injected directly into the tree.

Chlorosis, the name used to describe an iron deficient tree, causes general yellowing. First signs, noted early, include yellowing between leaf veins with veins remaining green, says Elton Smith, Extension Horticulturist at The Ohio State University. Later, particularly in severe cases, leaves turn yellow, followed by circular brown spots and leaf dropping. A branch or several branches may show die-back with the deficiency sometimes causing death of the tree.

High pH level — 6.5 and above — is a cause of chlorosis. This is common from Columbus west. East of Columbus, the problem is not as severe, Smith says. Soils that are continuously wet due to a rainy spring or other reasons is another cause, and a high soil mineral element level such as phosphorus can cause chlorosis.

Oaks susceptible to chlorosis are Pin, White, Swamp White, Willow and Eastern Red. All show the previously described symptoms except the Eastern Red, which has brown areas between leaf veins rather than yellowing.

Control includes treating the soil, spraying the foliage, or changing the soil pH, in addition to the new capsule method. Treating the soil and spraying foliage are both temporary, lasting about one year. Changing the soil pH would be more permanent, but would be extremely difficult to perform, as the soil underneath the root system would have to be treated, too. So, the new product containing Ferric Ammonium Citrate and sold as Iron Medicaps is the easiest method of control. The capsules prevent chlorosis from two to four years.

To insert capsules, drill 1/2-inch diameter holes 2 to 4 inches apart in a spiral pattern around the base of the trunk 1 to 3 feet above the soil. Important, be sure the holes are drilled to proper depth — through the bark into the wood deep enough so head of capsule is beneath the cambium layer (area between bark and wood). This insures maximum effectiveness and proper healing of holes. Make holes with a drill or hand brace. Bits properly marked for depth of holes are provided with capsules.

Those who do not want to do the job themselves may call professional arborists or landscape companies who have servicemen available to do the job.

The earlier one can get the capsules inserted, the better, Smith says. April is a good time, so do the job now. Don't wait until leaves start to turn yellow. Early spring insertion of capsules is best not only for effectiveness but also for faster healing of holes.

Advantages of using the capsule method are: treatment lasts several years, less expensive, takes less time to treat, and you do not need expensive areal-type spray equipment to treat your tree. A disadvantage, of course, is drilling holes in the tree. However, properly timed and inserted capsules permit wounds to heal in one season.

Farm Owners Asked To Comply With Machine Guarding Standard

Beginning June 7, farm employers engaged in agriculture will be required to meet some of the safety provisions of the new Machine Guarding Standard for Agriculture issued by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA). The purpose of the standard is to protect farm owners and their employees from hazards associated with moving parts of farm machinery.

According to a recent OSHA report, guards or shields must be placed on power take-off drives for such field equipment as tractors, hay balers, bale loaders, forage harvesters, hay cutters and vegetable harvesters. Self-unloading forage wagons, gravity-unload grain trailers, all types of manure spreaders and portable grinder-mixers are considered field equipment.

Farmstead equipment such as auger and flight elevators, mechanical bunk feeders, silo unloaders, bin unloading systems, grain dryers, grinders, mixers, sorting tables, coolers and all other types of material-handling equipment must be guarded.

Lack of adequate power take-off guarding is considered a recognized hazard for which farmers can be cited and penalized even in the absence of a specific standard, the report stated. Farm employers cannot permit any employee to operate machinery around the farmstead unless the power drive is guarded.

Also required are nip-point guards (sometimes called "pinch" or "mesh" points), on all driven gears, belts, chains, sheaves, pulley sprockets, idlers and rollers.

Employe operators must be instructed in the safe operation and servicing of tractors, field implements and farmstead equipment that they operate. Safety Administration officials urge farm employers to comply with the machine guarding standard for a safer farming operation.

A Page Of Opinion

Tracing Growth

Population explosions are best understood by tracing the path of the buildup into the past and then estimating what the population total will be, say, about the year 2000.

The population of the United States today is estimated at about 215 million. How long did it take to achieve this record?

About 200 years, if one starts at the founding of the Republic. Going back to the 350 inhabitants of the Virginia colony in 1610, adds a century and a half to the period it took to reach 215 million persons. How many years will it be to the next plateau, 300 million? Less than 30, according to the Census Bureau.

Since the first official census was taken in 1790 (the 13 former colonies then had a total population of nearly 4 million) the rate of growth has accelerated dramatically. The 100 million mark was reached in 1915. It took only 52 more years to reach 200 million. The 300 million plateau is expected to arrive before the year 2000.

And so on.

And so on? How long can even a richly endowed nation continue to absorb more people without reaching the point of diminishing food and other resources?

These are questions which should be asked repeatedly, not hidden under the apathy of current conditions. China has almost four times as many inhabitants and is suffering because of it. India, with nearly 600 million, remains on the verge of national disaster through mass starvation.

"It can't happen here" is an empty motto from unthinking heads. Look at China and India.

When Fetal Heartbeat Falters

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — The life of a fetus — or unborn baby — is not as routine and quiet as its parents would like to think.

The fetus does not live in a "dark, silent world," but rather in a dimly lit womb which, despite its buffers, admits the sounds of heartbeats, digestive rumbles, arguments and even TV.

A sudden blast from a commercial can make the fetus literally jump.

But the most intense and vital moments of the unborn child's life come when he decides to move out into the world he (or she) has only heard and felt through osmosis . . .

The birth canal is tiny, and the baby relatively large. As the mother's contractions grow strong, X-ray observations have shown, the fetal limbs flail.

The head is compressed by strong forces never felt before (if one would try to compress a newborn's head with even a minimal degree of that pressure, the baby would scream).

It is at this crucial stage in a delivery that the fetus can be starved for oxygen—figuratively gasping—and no one would know . . . not until after the birth when, if the baby has come through the experience alive, he may be found to suffer from the neurological problems which are known to be due to oxygen deprivation in the fetus: cerebral palsy, mental retardation and many types of congenital brain damage.

Until fairly recently, "no one could predict the precise moment when a normal pregnancy and labor might turn into (such) a disaster," says Dr. Joseph J. Rovinsky, chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Long Island Jewish-Hillside Medical Center.

But now there is a procedure to monitor the mother and baby from the moment labor begins: an electronic safeguard which Dr. Rovinsky, and other prominent obstetricians in major hospitals, feel will greatly diminish dangers of fetal brain damage.

As soon as a pregnant woman is admitted to the labor room, two plastic detection devices are placed on her abdomen, and a bedside recording instrument is switched on. Slowly it begins to trace lines across a moving graph. Sharp peaks show each of the mother's contractions as the baby moves through the birth canal. Jagged, wavering lines are recorded by the beating heart of the fetus.

If the fetal heartbeat shows a pattern of faltering or irregularity, the staff of the labor room whips into action instantly.

The obstetrician draws a tiny drop of blood from the unborn baby's scalp. Laboratory technicians, on round-the-clock duty, test the acidity level of the blood. Increasing acidity indicates the fetus is not getting enough oxygen — and if this happens, delivery by

Caesarean section "can be underway in less than five minutes."

The monitoring system, where it has been put into duty routinely, has cut down on stillbirths, and on neurological problems. "It's amazing," claims Rovinsky. "We have always tried to deal with problems as they occurred — but now we can begin to pick up problems before they arise. Obstetrics should no longer be satisfied with producing only a living mother and a living baby. We now should be concerned with the quality of life of both mother and infant — and this device is the answer."

Fetal monitoring and, when necessary, scalp testing have been in existence for about five years, but are still relatively unknown.

Most hospitals use the processes only for "high risk" pregnant women. Long Island Jewish, and some of the major teaching hospitals around the country, use it on every pregnant patient. "In our case," says Dr. Rovinsky, "it has uncovered problems before they became serious in five to 10 per cent of the pregnancies."

Dr. Jahangir Ayromloo, who teaches the technique of fetal blood sampling procedures to the hospital's residents and staff obstetricians, feels it is particularly important for pregnant women who are suffering from either hypertension or diabetes. But it appears to be a significant safeguard for every woman — and particularly her baby.

It is suggested here that pregnant women urge (nag, if necessary) their gynecologists or obstetricians to provide the fetal monitoring precaution, even if the pregnancy appears to be perfectly normal.

Persistence pays — as does precaution.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Exciting information is filtering through scientific papers to the newspapers about a vaccine against syphilis.

The studies are exciting and indicate the dedication of scientists who modestly continue their efforts to solve this and other important health problems.

There is also some evidence of the relationship of some type of virus to diabetes.

Research workers are exploring the possibility that people with a genetic (inherited) predisposition to diabetes may be adversely affected by a special virus and thus become diabetic. Is there a vaccine on the horizon?

Physicians in the active practice of medicine are constantly impressed by the inordinate amount of research that is in a state of activity, all over the world, hoping to break through barriers that blockade our greater understanding of disease.

Sometimes even a minute contribution of a scientist can add immeasurably to the clarification of a complex problem.

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter to tell the people of Pickaway County how lucky we are to have a community theater. There are many cities larger than Circleville who aren't privileged to have a theater. The Theater needs the support of the community in order to continue bringing this form of entertainment to the people. It is disappointing to work on a play and not have people come to see it.

Our children can see a live play without driving miles. They are also welcome to come work on a play and more important, learn to enjoy giving to others.

Thank you to those who do support us and, to you who haven't seen one of our plays, please come and see our current production.

Fluoride, so significant in reducing decay in teeth, has been found to have advantages in the control of other medical problems.

"Osteoporosis" is a condition in which there is softening of the bone and absorption of calcium. Women past menopause sometimes develop this condition.

Dr. George P. Vose, of the Texas Women's University in Denton, has been using fluoride to halt the loss of calcium and the softening of bone.

His study, based on the use of fluoride in conjunction with calcium and vitamin D, showed distinct values in controlling osteoporosis.

The value of fluoride in other bone problems will undoubtedly come to light based on these excellent preliminary studies.

Osteosarcoma is a dangerous cancer of the bone for which little or no treatment was previously effective. Today, chemotherapy, or the use of anti-cancer drugs, has brought greater hope to children afflicted with this catastrophic condition.

Dr. Hugh G. Watts, of the Harvard Medical School, has been using high doses of special chemicals, with dramatic results.

Cases that previously might have been considered hopeless have responded dramatically to the treatment.

A Page Of Opinion

Tracing Growth

Population explosions are best understood by tracing the path of the buildup into the past and then estimating what the population total will be, say, about the year 2000.

The population of the United States today is estimated at about 215 million. How long did it take to achieve this record?

About 200 years, if one starts at the founding of the Republic. Going back to the 350 inhabitants of the Virginia colony in 1610, adds a century and a half to the period it took to reach 215 million persons. How many years will it be to the next plateau, 300 million?

Less than 30, according to the Census Bureau.

Since the first official census was taken in 1790 (the 13 former colonies then had a total population of nearly 4 million) the rate of growth has accelerated dramatically. The 100 million mark was reached in 1915. It took only 52 more years to reach 200 million. The 300 million plateau is expected to arrive before the year 2000.

And so on.

And so on? How long can even a richly endowed nation continue to absorb more people without reaching the point of diminishing food and other resources?

These are questions which should be asked repeatedly, not hidden under the apathy of current conditions. China has almost four times as many inhabitants and is suffering because of it. India, with nearly 600 million, remains on the verge of national disaster through mass starvation.

"It can't happen here" is an empty motto from unthinking heads. Look at China and India.

When Fetal Heartbeat Falters

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — The life of a fetus — or unborn baby — is not as routine and quiet as its parents would like to think.

The fetus does not live in a "dark, silent world," but rather in a dimly lit womb which, despite its buffers, admits the sounds of heartbeats, digestive rumbles, arguments and even TV.

A sudden blast from a commercial can make the fetus literally jump.

But the most intense and vital moments of the unborn child's life come when he decides to move out into the world he (or she) has only heard and felt through osmosis.

The birth canal is tiny, and the baby relatively large. As the mother's contractions grow strong, X-ray observations have shown, the fetal limbs flail.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Don't Tell New Lovers About Old Ones

DEAR ABBY: I am a 63-year-old widow. My husband died two years ago after a beautiful marriage that lasted for 30 years.

I went completely to pieces and foolishly took up with a man shortly afterwards. I was lost and lonely, and he provided the tenderness and consolation I desperately needed at the time. It was mostly a sexual attraction, and it lasted only a few months.

After we broke up, I met a very fine, 72-year-old gentleman who was everything a woman could want in a husband. He proposed marriage and I accepted. Then I told him about my brief affair, thinking he would understand. Well, he didn't! Instead, he said he couldn't marry me knowing that I was "second-hand" merchandise.

I told him that in all the years of my marriage, I never looked at another man, but he said it didn't matter my affair after my husband's death was something he could never forgive.

Abby, don't you think he is wrong to hold that against me? I didn't even know him when this happened. I love him and want to marry him, but I cannot understand his attitude. Please advise.

HEAVY-HEARTED

DEAR HEAVY: I think he's wrong. But you could be lucky to have found out how unforgiving and unfair he is. I'm sure you realize how foolish you were to discuss your past with him. Don't make that mistake again.

DEAR ABBY: When I first heard about topless swimsuits for girls, I thought it was just a lot of talk, but yesterday I actually saw one for sale in a store!

If women would consider wearing a topless swimsuit in public, we have reached a new low in our civilization—even lower than the decadence that preceded the fall of the Roman empire.

Topless swimsuits! Have we lost all sense of decency? Who cares if we are bombed back to the Stone Age? What's left to save?

MOTHER OF GIRLS

DEAR MOTHER: The bottoms.

DEAR ABBY: I am in my middle 70s. Since my wife's death 10 years ago, I have been seeing a very lovely married woman now in her middle 30s.

She is married to a man who barely makes a living for her and their children.

I am making out my will and want to provide generously for this woman who has given me so much happiness. How can I do so without casting a shadow on her reputation or embarrassing her?

NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: Talk to your lawyer, and then discuss it with the woman. Remembering someone in a will isn't necessarily an admission of a romantic involvement.

DEAR ABBY: Can you stand one more letter about the myna bird who was taught to use dirty words?

Eeny meeny myna moe
Grab a myna by the toe
If he hollers dirty words
Just pretend it's "for the birds."

Memorial Airport News

Hello dere! Spring is sprung and the grass has rizos. I wonder where the heck all the pilots is? Why they're at Pickaway International Airport and not house. You want to know how bad things are? Well, you've heard about the rash of aircraft being caught smuggling dope, haven't you? Well, the other day the FBI tried to arrest one of my students for carrying me in the airplane. Yeah they did — why even a squirrel tried to put me in a nest for winter storage.

Big things going on at the airport this week. Beverly Dahl received her private pilot's license April 25 and Henrietta Jonas received her license April 26. Henrietta was the first lady to sign up and take lessons here last July. New student this week is Glen Neff of Ashville.

Lot of charter work now coming from Circleville and the surrounding areas. If you've got people or material to move fast and efficiently, give us a call.

We're still working on the air show and still haven't got positive dates yet, but we're trying and will have it eventually. Maybe even this century.

The Civil Air Patrol is now meeting at Pickaway County Airport every Thursday at 7:30 p.m. If you don't know about the CAP, it's open to boys and girls age 13 and up and adults. The CAP is a lot of things to a lot of people, but it's an auxiliary of the United States Air Force and all members wear airforce uniforms and are taught military courtesy and discipline. If you're interested or know someone that is, come on down Thursday at 7:30 and see what it's all about.

See ya later.

JUDGE OUR "YEARLING" ON PERFORMANCE

Like most good judges of horseflesh, you'd probably rather believe your eyes than your ears. Even though your neighbors may tell you great things about Purina Big 'Un, we hope you'll judge our "yearling" horse ration on performance.

True, many of our horsemen friends have fed Big 'Un to their foals because their neighbors recommended it. But now they feed it because they know it helps produce bigger, more valuable foals.

If you'd like to give Big 'Un a try, you can choose between two foal growing programs, depending on whether or not you use hay or pasture.

Both programs will go far toward building a sounder, well-knit bone structure.

Come in soon and let's figure out the best program for your foals. When you see the growth Big 'Un puts on your foals, you'll judge our "yearling" on performance.

The church was decorated with two planters with white mums, and red and blue ribbons. The aisles and pews were marked with red, white and blue ribbons, and the unity table held an arrangement of mums, daisies and greenery flanked with candelabra enhanced with red, white and blue ribbons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. She was attired in an ivory velvet wedding gown with a Victorian neckline, empire waist and long sleeves of chantilly lace. The chapel length train fell gracefully over the A-line skirt in the back and the veil of English net, edged with lace, flowed softly over the train. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of red sweetheart roses, blue and white carnations and baby's breath with red, white and blue streamers carrying out the bicentennial theme. Her only jewelry was a gold and diamond watch, a gift of the bridegroom.

Maid of honor, Miss Cindy Nowacki, wore a blue full length dress with a U-neckline trimmed in white which was repeated at the waistline. She carried a bouquet of red, white and blue carnations, and baby's breath.

Miss Anita Archer was bridesmaid dressed identically to the honor attendant and carried a matching bouquet. Both girls wore red, white and blue necklaces, gifts of the bride. Miss Cindy Archer presided at the guest book.

After the meeting a social hour was held in the dining room. The patriotic theme of the evening was carried throughout the dining room. The tables were decorated in red and blue stars on a white background with red, white and blue candles on each table. An

Miss Linda Renee Redman, Frederick Lee Archer Wed In First Baptist Church

MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK LEE ARCHER

First Baptist Church of Circleville was the setting for the wedding of Miss Linda Renee Redman and Mr. Frederick Lee Archer.

The Rev. Joseph P. Weldon of Vermillion performed the double ring service 2:30 p.m., April 10, for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Redman, Route 1, Stoutsville, and the son of Mrs. Gertrude Archer, 1015 Sunshine St., Circleville.

The church was decorated with two planters with white mums, and red and blue ribbons. The aisles and pews were marked with red, white and blue ribbons, and the unity table held an arrangement of mums, daisies and greenery flanked with candelabra enhanced with red, white and blue ribbons.

Mr. John Hempker was pianist and Mr. Dale Hukill of New Jersey, organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. She was attired in an ivory velvet wedding gown with a victorian neckline, empire waist and long sleeves of chantilly lace. The chapel length train fell gracefully over the A-line skirt in the back and the veil of English net, edged with lace, flowed softly over the train. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of red sweetheart roses, blue and white carnations and baby's breath with red, white and blue streamers carrying out the bicentennial theme. Her only jewelry was a gold and diamond watch, a gift of the bridegroom.

Maid of honor, Miss Cindy Nowacki, wore a blue full length dress with a U-neckline trimmed in white which was repeated at the waistline. She carried a bouquet of red, white and blue carnations, and baby's breath.

Miss Anita Archer was bridesmaid dressed identically to the honor attendant and carried a matching bouquet. Both girls wore red, white and blue necklaces, gifts of the bride. Miss Cindy Archer presided at the guest book.

Top Horses Ready For Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Honest Pleasure, winner of nine straight races, and Bold Forbes, the Wood Memorial winner, were expected to go to the front at the start of today's $216,700 Kentucky Derby and battle to the wire before more than 100,000 fans at Churchill Downs.

There was a good chance of rain for the 102nd running of the 1 1/4-mile event which has drawn a field of nine 3-year-old colts. Post time was set for 5:40 p.m., EDT.

"It's not a match race," said Leroy Jolley, who trains Honest Pleasure for owner Bert Firestone. "In a match race, the only thing you have behind you are the tractors unless the pony boy gets into the act."

"Bold Forbes can have as many lengths as he wants in the first part — they pay off on the last part of the race. I'm satisfied with him. He's a fresh horse coming into this race and that's what I wanted."

Braulio Baeza had the mount on Honest Pleasure, who was coming off stakes triumphs in the Flamingo, Florida Derby and Blue Grass.

Angel Cordero rode Bold Forbes, owned by Puerto Rico's E. Rodriguez Tizol. Trainer Laz Barrera said of his colt, "Bold Forbes has enough speed that, if he breaks good, he'll be on the lead. If that other horse (Honest Pleasure) wants the lead, he's going to have to go on."

In pre-Derby mutuel wagering held Friday, Honest Pleasure's odds dropped from an early line of 3-5 to 1-2.

Bold Forbes went from 9-5 to 7-2 as a record crowd for the day before the Derby—43,793—bet $318,367.

Eugene Cashman's Elocutionist, the Arkansas Derby winner, remained the third pick with his odds dropping from 12-1 to 10-1. John Lively had the mount.

The remainder of the field, with jockeys and new odds: Elmendorf Farm's Play The Red, Jorge Velasquez, 12-1; Balmak Stable's On The Sly, Greg McCarron, 20-1; Jim Irvin's Amano, Larry Melancon, 30-1; Entremont Stable's Cojak, Chris McCarron, 30-1; Charles Jarrel's Inca Roca, Will Nemeti, 45-1, and Sared Stable's Bidson, Don MacBerth, 50-1.

All were to carry 126 pounds. The winning purse was to be $165,200 with second place worth $30,000, $15,000 for third and $7,500 to fourth.

HONOR CAGERS — Circleville Elks Lodge 77 entertained the Circleville High School basketball team and coaches with a beef dinner. Each team member and coach was also presented with a key chain in appreciation of a successful basketball season.

Reds Top Montreal, 7-2

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

A basic golf lesson helped Johnny Bench turn Riverfront Stadium into his personal driving range.

"It's just like golf — if I don't stay still with the head, I don't hit," Bench said Friday night after teeing off on Montreal pitching for two home runs.

The cannon shots, Bench's third and fourth homers of the year, led the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-2 victory over the Expos and boosted the catcher's April production to 16 RBI — second best in his career for baseball's opening month.

"Because of my shoulder operation (over the winter), I've developed a bad habit of pulling off the ball," said Bench. "so my golf game has helped me. I feel like things have been going good all week."

The fairway-long drives off Montreal's Dan Warthen reaffirmed Expo Manager Karl Kuehl's faith in Bench Power.

In the other National League games, the New York Mets beat the Houston Astros 3-1; the Los Angeles Dodgers turned back the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1; the Pittsburgh Pirates trimmed the San Diego Padres 4-3 and the Chicago Cubs beat the San Francisco Giants 5-2. The game between Philadelphia and Atlanta was rained out.

Bench's three RBI provided the winning runs for Gary Nolan, 2-1, who beat the Expos for the fifth straight time. The Cincinnati right-hander helped his cause by driving in a run with a single while blanking the Expos for seven innings. He gave up three hits in the first three innings, then retired 13 men in a row before Tim Foli singled in the eighth and Ellis Valentine crashed a two-run home run.

Nolan, who gave way to Rawley Eastwick in the ninth, has not lost to the Expos since September 2, 1972. Warthen, 0-2, was the loser.

Mets 3, Astros 1
John Matlack scattered seven hits and Del Unser drove in two runs to lead New York to its seventh straight victory. Matlack, 3-0, struck out four Houston batters and walked two. Joe Niekro, 1-4, took the loss.

Dodgers 4, Cards 1
Rick Rhoden Fired a six-hitter and Los Angeles collected 12 hits in beating St. Louis for its seventh straight victory. Former Cardinal Ted Sizemore had three of the Dodgers' hits and drove in a run.

Pirates 4, Padres 3
Jim Rooker and Ramon Hernandez held San Diego to five hits before Bob Moose snuffed out a ninth-inning rally as Pittsburgh nipped the Padres.

Cubs 5, Giants 2
Bill Madlock belted a pair of doubles and a single and Manny Trillo and Jose Cardenal each knocked in two runs to pace Chicago past San Francisco. Rick Reuschel, 1-1, scattered seven hits and survived some early trouble in pitching Chicago's first complete game of the year.

Oakland Crushes Baltimore, 11-1

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

Mike Torrez came home to Baltimore Friday night and found the Orioles to be congenial hosts. In fact, Torrez almost continued straight on to the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y.

Ferguson Jenkins, however, was welcomed rudely on his return to Texas.

Torrez, 20-9 in his only year in Baltimore, pitched 5 2/3 nohit innings and finished with a two-hitter as the Oakland A's crushed the Orioles 11-1.

Meanwhile, the Rangers tattooed Jenkins for nine hits and five runs in 6 1/3 innings, then held on for a 6-5 triumph over the Boston Red Sox and the hurler who won 42 games in a Texas uniform the last two seasons.

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees beat the Kansas City Royals 5-3, the Cleveland Indians downed the California Angels 5-2 and the Chicago White Sox tripped the Detroit Tigers 8-4. Milwaukee and Minnesota were not scheduled.

Torrez' no-hit bid was spoiled when Al Bumbry slashed a hopping single off shortstop Bert Campaneris' glove with two out in the sixth inning.

"When I saw it hit off Campy's glove I just closed my eyes and thought, 'There it goes.' Still, this was by far my best game this year and it gave me a lot of satisfaction to be able to pitch that way," Torrez said.

The A's scored their first four runs off Jim Palmer and wrapped it up with seven in the ninth, two on a homer by Sal Bando.

Rangers 6, Red Sox 5
The big blows off Jenkins were Tom Grieve's solo homer and John Ellis' three-run double. The Rangers built a 6-0 lead behind Jim Umbarger and then withstood a four-run Boston rally in the ninth.

Yankees 5, Royals 3
Fred Stanley and Mickey Rivers

belted consecutive triples and Thurman Munson slugged a two-run homer as the Yankees rallied for three runs in the fifth inning. That was enough to give Catfish Hunter his second victory in five decisions on a six-hitter.

Indians 5, Angels 2
George Hendrick blasted a three-run homer off reliever Dick Drago in the bottom of the ninth after Buddy Bell doubled and Rico Carty, attempting to sacrifice, beat out a bunt. Jim Kern picked up the victory with 3 2/3 innings of scoreless relief. Bobby Bonds homered for the Angels.

White Sox 8, Tigers 4
Jorge Orta's home run triggered a three-run fourth inning and Terry Forster notched his first pitching triumph with help from Dave Hamilton. The White Sox, who broke a fivegame losing streak, piled up an 8-0 lead before Detroit scored in the seventh. Detroit's Willie Horton hit his fifth home run of the season as the Tigers chased Forster in the eighth.

Ali Beats Young— Or Did He Really?

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Jimmy Young, virtually ignored by Muhammad Ali during the final week of training for their heavyweight title bout, finally caught the champ's attention.

Ducking under many punches and hitting just as hard as Ali, Young fought the longest and best bout of an undistinguished career Friday night before losing a unanimous decision which added little or nothing to Ali's stature.

It did, however, add $1.6 million to Ali's always-enlarging bank account. Young made just $75,000, but still enjoyed his best payday ever.

Ohio State Leader In Golf Tournament

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State led all visitors after the first 36 holes Friday of the 10th annual Northern Intercollegiate Golf tournament. The final 36 holes will be played Saturday.

OSU carded a 748 over its home Scarlet course, while Miami (Ohio) was second with 760 and Iowa third with 763.

Gary Domagaloski of Michigan State led individual players with 144, followed by OSU's Dave Zabel's 146 and Robbie Jackson of Indiana's 146.

"I underestimated Jimmy Young," Ali admitted. "I didn't know he was so awkward and hard to hit. I took him too lightly. I almost lost the fight."

Angelo Dundee, Ali's veteran trainer, went much further in analyzing the champion's lacklustre effort in the first heavyweight championship bout in the Washington, D.C., area since 1941.

"It was probably the worst fight of his career," Dundee said. "He's had better nights, and I hope he never has any worse ones. But I'm glad he got this out of the way, so he can be better in Munich."

The reference was to Ali's next title defense in Germany on May 25 against European champion Richard Dunn.

The Dunn bout and an expected fall match against Ken Norton, one of two boxers to best Ali in 53 career bouts, was very much on the champion's mind as he trained for Young.

Overweight as well as overconfident, Ali learned that Young is a much better fighter than when they opposed each other in three 1973 exhibitions.

Judge Larry Barrett gave Ali the edge by only 70-68, judge Terry moore gave the champion the edge 71-64, and referee Tom Kelly called it 77-65. The Associated Press saw it for Young, 69-66.

Reserve Tigers Dump Wilmington

Circleville's reserve baseball team reversed an early-season 16-4 loss to Wilmington by pounding the Hurricane 17-8 Friday night.

Alan Ranck picked up the win, firing a seven-incher. He walked 7 batters and struck out one.

The Tigers, meanwhile, racked Wilmington pitching for 14 hits. The Tigers got nine walks and fanned four times.

Joe Morgan banged a triple, double, and a single to pace the attack. Jeff Meena pounded out three hits, Jamie Hickey had a triple and a single, and Tom Scherer added two safeties.

Brady paced the Hurricane at the plate with a triple and single.

The Tigers are 7-4 on the year and will play a doubleheader with Miami Trace beginning noon today.

Trap Shoot Set

The Circleville BPO Elks gun club will sponsor a trap shoot beginning 1 p.m. Sunday at Elsea Trailer Sales on Route 23.

Celtics Top Buffalo; Win Clash 99-88

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dave Cowens was a big lift for the Boston Celtics and a big letdown for the Buffalo Braves.

"Dave Cowens is just Dave Cowens—what else can you say? He was just great!" exulted Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn after his brawny center helped the Celtics beat the Braves 99-88 in the National Basketball Association playoffs Friday night.

Cowens scored 30 points and picked off 16 rebounds as Boston took a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven-game Eastern Conference semifinals.

"He's just great at his job," Buffalo Coach Jack Ramsay said of Cowens. "Their two guys—Paul Silas and Cowens—get more offensive rebounds than any two guys in the league. We have to run better and execute better in our next game in Buffalo if we expect to return to Boston for a seventh game."

The Celtics have a shot to wrap up the series in Buffalo Sunday afternoon. If a seventh game is necessary, it will be played in Boston next Wednesday night. The winner will face the Cleveland Cavaliers for the East championship.

In other NBA action Friday night, the Golden State Warriors stopped the Detroit Pistons 118-116 in overtime and won their Western semifinal series, 4-2. The Warriors will host the Phoenix Suns Sunday in the opener of the Western finals.

Tigers Calm Hurricanes 3-2

The Circleville Tigers got by the Wilmington Hurricanes 3-2 Friday at Circleville but had to go 11 innings to do so in what amounted to a pitching duel between Tiger Brent Mancini and Hurricane Brian Williams, as each racked up nearly equal statistics in route-going performances.

Mancini scattered 11 hits, issued three walks, and struck out seven. Williams allowed 10 hits, walked three and fanned five.

The Hurricanes took a 2-1 lead in the top of the fourth inning and held it until the sixth when the Tigers scored a run to tie. That was all the scoring for the next 4 1/2 innings. Then in the bottom of the 11th, first baseman Bo Barthelmas blasted a no-out bases-loaded single to put the game in the win column for Circleville.

Mancini helped his own cause in the game as he smashed a triple, two singles, scored a run and drove in another. Keith Sanders, Biff Bumgarner, Jerry Strawser, Brad Allison, Brett Allen, Bob Fuller, and Bo Barthelmas each lined a one-bagger.

Bradly led Wilmington with three hits.

Coach Tom Cole said afterward, "I am pleased with our hustle on the bases and our never-give-up attitude. We also had new faces at three positions."

The Tigers are 10-5 overall and the victory over the Hurricanes kept alive their battle for a share of the South Central Ohio League title as Circleville upped their record to 6-3. The Tigers travel to Teays Valley on Tuesday.

Top Horses Ready For Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Honest Pleasure, winner of nine straight races, and Bold Forbes, the Wood Memorial winner, were expected to go to the front at the start of today's $216,700 Kentucky Derby and battle to the wire before more than 100,000 fans at Churchill Downs.

There was a good chance of rain for the 102nd running of the 1¼-mile event which has drawn a field of nine 3-year-old colts. Post time was set for 5:40 p.m., EDT.

"It's not a match race," said Leroy Jolley, who trains Honest Pleasure for owner Bert Firestone. "In a match race, the only thing you have behind you are the tractors unless the pony boy gets into the act."

"Bold Forbes can have as many lengths as he wants in the first part — they pay off on the last part of the race. I'm satisfied with him. He's a fresh horse coming into this race and that's what I wanted."

Braulio Baeza had the mount on Honest Pleasure, who was coming off stakes triumphs in the Flamingo, Florida Derby and Blue Grass.

Angel Cordero rode Bold Forbes, owned by Puerto Rico's E. Rodriguez Tizol. Trainer Laz Barrera said of his colt, "Bold Forbes has enough speed that, if he breaks good, he'll be on the lead. If that other horse (Honest Pleasure) wants the lead, he's going to have to go on."

In pre-Derby mutuel wagering held Friday, Honest Pleasure's odds dropped from an early line of 3-5 to 1-2.

Bold Forbes went from 9-5 to 7-2 as a record crowd for the day before the Derby—43,793—bet $318,367.

Eugene Cashman's Elocutionist, the Arkansas Derby winner, remained the third pick with his odds dropping from 12-1 to 10-1. John Lively had the mount.

The remainder of the field, with jockeys and new odds: Elmendorf Farm's Play The Red, Jorge Velasquez, 12-1; Balmak Stable's On The Sly, Greg McCarron, 20-1; Jim Irvin's Amano, Larry Melancon, 30-1; Entremont Stable's Cojak, Chris McCarron, 30-1; Charles Jarrel's Inca Roca, Will Nemeti, 45-1, and Sared Stable's Bidson, Don MacBerth, 50-1.

All were to carry 126 pounds. The winning purse was to be $165,200 with second place worth $30,000, $15,000 for third and $7,500 to fourth.

HONOR CAGERS — Circleville Elks Lodge 77 entertained the Circleville High School basketball team and coaches with a beef dinner. Each team member and coach was also presented with a key chain in appreciation of a successful basketball season.

Reds Top Montreal, 7-2

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer

A basic golf lesson helped Johnny Bench turn Riverfront Stadium into his personal driving range.

"It's just like golf — if I don't stay still with the head, I don't hit," Bench said Friday night after teeing off on Montreal pitching for two home runs.

The cannon shots, Bench's third and fourth homers of the year, led the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-2 victory over the Expos and boosted the catcher's April production to 16 RBI — second best in his career for baseball's opening month.

"Because of my shoulder operation (over the winter), I've developed a bad habit of pulling off the ball," said Bench, "so my golf game has helped me. I feel like things have been going good all week."

The fairway-long drives off Montreal's Dan Warthen reaffirmed Expo Manager Karl Kuehl's faith in Bench Power.

In the other National League games, the New York Mets beat the Houston Astros 3-1; the Los Angeles Dodgers turned back the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1; the Pittsburgh Pirates trimmed the San Diego Padres 4-3 and the Chicago Cubs beat the San Francisco Giants 5-2. The game between Philadelphia and Atlanta was rained out.

Bench's three RBI provided the winning runs for Gary Nolan, 2-1, who beat the Expos for the fifth straight time. The Cincinnati right-hander helped his cause by driving in a run with a single while blanking the Expos for seven innings. He gave up three hits in the first three innings, then retired 13 men in a row before Tim Lincecum in the eighth and Ellis Valentine crashed a two-run home run.

Nolan, who gave way to Rawley Eastwick in the ninth, has not lost to the Expos since September 2, 1972. Warthen, 0-2, was the loser.

Mets 3, Astros 1

John Matlack scattered seven hits and Del Unser drove in two runs to lead New York to its seventh straight victory. Matlack, 3-0, struck out four Houston batters and walked two. Joe Niekro, 1-4, took the loss.

Dodgers 4, Cards 1

Rick Rhoden Fired a six-hitter and Los Angeles collected 12 hits in beating St. Louis for its seventh straight victory. Former Cardinal Ted Sizemore had three of the Dodgers' hits and drove in a run.

Pirates 4, Padres 3

Jim Rooker and Ramon Hernandez held San Diego to five hits before Bob Moose snuffed out a ninth-inning rally as Pittsburgh nipped the Padres.

Cubs 5, Giants 2

Bill Madlock belted a pair of doubles and a single and Manny Trillo and Jose Cardenal each knocked in two runs to pace Chicago past San Francisco. Rick Reuschel, 1-1, scattered seven hits and survived some early trouble in pitching Chicago's first complete game of the year.

Oakland Crushes Baltimore, 11-1

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

AP Sports Writer

Mike Torrez came home to Baltimore Friday night and found the Orioles to be congenial hosts. In fact, Torrez almost continued straight on to the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y.

Ferguson Jenkins, however, was welcomed rudely on his return to Texas.

Torrez, 20-9 in his only year in Baltimore, pitched 5 2-3 nohit innings and finished with a two-hitter as the Oakland A's crushed the Orioles 11-1.

Meanwhile, the Rangers tattooed Jenkins for nine hits and five runs in 6 1-3 innings, then held on for a 6-5 triumph over the Boston Red Sox and the hurler who won 42 games in a Texas uniform the last two seasons.

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees beat the Kansas City Royals 5-3, the Cleveland Indians downed the California Angels 5-2 and the Chicago White Sox tripped the Detroit Tigers 8-4. Milwaukee and Minnesota were not scheduled.

Torrez' no-hit bid was spoiled when Al Bumbry slashed a hopping single off shortstop Bert Campaneris' glove with two out in the sixth inning.

"When I saw it hit off Campy's glove I just closed my eyes and thought, 'There it goes.' Still, this was by far my best game this year and it gave me a lot of satisfaction to be able to pitch that way," Torrez said.

The A's scored their first four runs off Jim Palmer and wrapped it up with seven in the ninth, two on a homer by Sal Bando.

Rangers 6, Red Sox 5

The big blows off Jenkins were Tom Grieve's solo homer and John Ellis' three-run double. The Rangers built a 6-0 lead behind Jim Umbarger and then withstood a four-run Boston rally in the ninth.

Yankees 5, Royals 3

Fred Stanley and Mickey Rivers

belted consecutive triples and Thurman Munson slugged a two-run homer as the Yankees rallied for three runs in the fifth inning. That was enough to give Catfish Hunter his second victory in five decisions on a six-hitter.

Indians 5, Angels 2

George Hendrick blasted a three-run homer off reliever Dick Drago in the bottom of the ninth after Buddy Bell doubled and Rico Carty, attempting to sacrifice, beat out a bunt. Jim Kern picked up the victory with 3 2-3 innings of scoreless relief. Bobby Bonds homered for the Angels.

White Sox 8, Tigers 4

Jorge Orta's home run triggered a three-run fourth inning and Terry Forster notched his first pitching triumph with help from Dave Hamilton. The White Sox, who broke a fivegame losing streak, piled up an 8-0 lead before Detroit scored in the seventh. Detroit's Willie Horton hit his fifth home run of the season as the Tigers chased Forster in the eighth.

Reserve Tigers Dump Wilmington

Circleville's reserve baseball team reversed an early-season 16-4 loss to Wilmington by pounding the Hurricane 17-8 Friday night.

Alan Ranck picked up the win, firing a seven-inning. He walked 7 batters and struck out one.

The Tigers, meanwhile, racked Wilmington pitching for 14 hits. The Tigers got nine walks and fanned four times.

Joe Morgan banged a triple, double, and a single to pace the attack. Jeff Meena pounded out three hits, Jamie Hickey had a triple and a single, and Tom Scherer added two safeties.

Brady paced the Hurricane at the plate with a triple and single.

The Tigers are 7-4 on the year and will play a doubleheader with Miami Trace beginning noon today.

Trap Shoot Set

The Circleville BPO Elks gun club will sponsor a trap shoot beginning 1 p.m. Sunday at Elsea Trailer Sales on Route 23.

Tigers Calm Hurricanes 3-2

The Circleville Tigers got by the Wilmington Hurricanes 3-2 Friday at Circleville but had to go 11 innings to do so in what amounted to a pitching duel between Tiger Brent Mancini and Hurricane Brian Williams, as each racked up nearly equal statistics in route-going performances.

Mancini scattered 11 hits, issued three walks, and struck out seven. Williams allowed 10 hits, walked three and fanned five.

The Hurricanes took a 2-1 lead in the top of the fourth inning and held it until the sixth when the Tigers scored a run to tie. That was all the scoring for the next 4½ innings. Then in the bottom of the 11th, first baseman Bo Barthelmas blasted a no-out bases-loaded single to put the game in the win column for Circleville.

Mancini helped his own cause in the game as he smashed a triple, two singles, scored a run and drove in another. Keith Sanders, Biff Bungarner, Jerry Strawser, Brad Allison, Brett Allen, Bob Fuller, and Bo Barthelmas each lined a one-bagger.

Bradly led Wilmington with three hits.

Coach Tom Cole said afterward, "I am pleased with our hustle on the bases and our never-give-up attitude. We also had new faces at three positions."

The Tigers are 10-5 overall and the victory over the Hurricanes kept alive their battle for a share of the South Central Ohio League title as Circleville upped their record to 6-3. The Tigers travel to Teays Valley on Tuesday.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): It may be easier for you to handle unusual or difficult tasks now than to make progress in routine affairs. Boredom with the latter could stymie you.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): What is expedient may not be the best for all concerned, so be careful of the route you select. Take nothing for granted.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): There are tendencies now toward impulsiveness and overemotionalism. Don't yield to such inclinations. Make thoughtful decisions, act calmly and deliberately.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Some of the things you have been able to manage before may be harder to control now. But, with an extra bit of determination, you can "make it."

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Controversial issues could cause contention, useless word-wasting. Don't join in. Instead, listen to all sides and you will arrive at the truth.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Ease up if week was busy. Catch your breath and take a good look where you are headed. Should you change your objectives? Or your tactics? A time for thought.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): An excellent day in which to formulate long-range plans. Something which has seemed out of reach is closer than you may imagine.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Some planetary restrictions. Don't depend on promises and don't make any binding agreements yourself. Stress conservatism in all things.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Your perception especially sharp now. In all matters depend on your own judgment, not that of others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A fine day for achievement; also for making decisions of importance. You may even have the opportunity to cash in on an avocational skill.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): A more or less average day but you should enjoy the evening hours, when some bright and amusing persons give you stimulating ideas.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Auspicious influences? An unexpected happening in the forenoon could lead to an unplanned — and profitable — trip.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine mind, terrific imagination and a wealth of talent which fit you for almost any career you choose. You have built-in gifts for writing, music and the arts and, since you are likely to be blessed with a fine voice, should make it a point to cultivate it. You are idealistic and humanitarian at heart and would make an excellent physician or nurse, since your "bedside manner" would be outstanding. You could be a top-rank diplomat or other type of statesman, and should enjoy the theater, travel and horticulture in all its forms. Birthdate of: Bing Crosby, singer; Catherine II, Empress of Russia.

The Open House and Jail Visit, which will be held Sunday from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m., include a tour of offices and the county jail, a cartoon explaining the Bill of Rights for children, and a film on the jury trial process. The display in the recorder's office includes a sheepskin patent signed in 1811 by President James Madison and Secretary of State James Monroe; a survey made by David Kinnear on hand-made paper in 1811, a power of attorney instrument from 1805; and an 1812 deed. Two items of special interest, documents that were never recorded according to Mrs. Yeatts, are the 1810 agreement for the sale of lots in the city which is signed by Daniel Dresbach, director, and the 1859 article of agreement for construction of the city building.

WHY? — Jeff McKay as Peter Van Daan asks Anne Frank, played by Kathleen Higgins, why she should wear the Star of David in a scene from the Roundtown Players current production, "The Diary of Anne Frank." Anne and Peter are discussing the star which was a symbol used by the Nazis in World War II to identify the Jews. The poignant story revolves around eight people hiding from Nazi persecution. It will be staged tonight and Friday and Saturday nights of next week at Memorial Hall. Call 474-5856 for reservations.

Air Fare Increases Approved By Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most passengers taking commercial airline flights in the United States and some going to Europe will be paying higher fares beginning today as a result of a Civil Aeronautics Board order. The board agreed Friday to let airlines raise all domestic air fares by 2 per cent during the next two weeks. It also approved hikes of up to 10 per cent in first class and promotional fares on flights across the North Atlantic routes to Europe, while rejecting increases proposed for the economy, or coach, fare on those routes. And the board approved fares requested by British Airways and Air France for supersonic flights on the controversial Concorde aircraft from Washington and New York to London and Paris. Concorde fares will be 20 per cent higher than the first class rate for comparable subsonic flights. Concorde passengers this summer will pay $801 from Washington to London and $827 from Washington to Paris. The two airlines plan to start Concorde service from Washington on May 24. No date has been set for the start of service to New York because of court action on an attempt by the operators of Kennedy Airport to ban the Concorde. The 2 per cent fare hike on domestic fares applies to flights in the 48 contiguous states. Airlines which said they would increase their fares today were American, Braniff, Continental, Trans World Airlines, United, Allegheny, Frontier, Hughes Air West, Ozark and Texas International. Northwest, North Central and Piedmont all plan to hike fares on May 7 and Western plans to increase its rates May 8. Delta, Eastern, National and Southern all will increase fares May 15. The 2 per cent hike means the cost of a coach ticket between New York and Los Angeles will rise from $184 to $188. Two car fires were reported Friday to the Circleville Fire Department. The first call came at 12:25 and firemen dispatched to the Berger Hospital parking lot where a fire had been caused when paper or leaves had blown against an exhaust pipe of a car owned by Joyce Keator, 2655 N. Court St. Only minor damages were reported. Minor damages were also reported in the second call of the day, a car fire at 11:25 p.m. Firemen dispatched to 805 S. Pickaway St., where a car had backfired through the carburetor. The auto was owned by Dan McNama, 923 S. Washington St.

5 Calves Taken From Barn Lot

Five crossbred calves were taken from the Route 1, Williamsport farm of George McGhee and William Keller, according to a report at the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department. The calves, shorthorn and hereford crossbred, are valued at $1,212.50. They weighed an average of about 550 pounds each. Deputies found that thieves unlatched four separate gates to gain entry to the barn lot where the animals were being kept. All 65 calves in the barn lot were herded into the loading pen, but only the five were stolen. The northeast part of Pickaway County and southeastern Franklin County was without power for about two hours Friday night when a South Central Power Co. sub-station exploded and caught fire. The incident occurred around 6:40 p.m., according to Deputy Sheriff Larry Kellenberger, who spotted a small grass fire north of the Shephard Road sub-station. He observed that three large circuit breakers which carry electricity from the transformer to the outside lines were smoldering. The Harrison Twp. Fire Department extinguished the grass fire, and South Central Power workers restored electricity about 8:50 p.m.

Jackson . . .

(Continued from Page 1) One source close to Jackson described his new posture as "not an absolute withdrawal." Campaign offices are closing, but some commitments will be kept, including next weekend's trip to Connecticut. Jackson had counted on the Supreme Court to free federal matching campaign money locked up when the Federal Election Commission was stripped of its power. But the high court refused Friday to distribute the anticipated $2.3 million to presidential candidates. Also very damaging to Jackson's drive for the presidency — which began with his candidacy in 1972, when he was runnerup to South Dakota Sen. George McGovern among Democrats — was his disappointing loss to former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter in last Tuesday's Pennsylvania primary. At home, his political base seems intact for a Senate reelection campaign. He has held the office since 1952, and he won it in 1970 with 82.4 per cent of the vote. He went to the Senate after five terms in the House. Jackson's withdrawal from an active candidacy was considered good news by Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, now the only active challenge to Carter. Udall said Jackson backers should now support him.

Youths Appear On School Truancy Charge

Juvenile Court Judge Guy G. Cline heard three cases of violation of probation last week. Each of the three youngsters charged with violating probation rules had done so by being truant from school. A 15-year-old Route 3, Mt. Sterling boy was continued on three years probation for the violation and ordered to complete 50 hours of community work. He was also ordered not to associate with two other boys specified by the court. Two Route 1, Lockbourne boys, ages 15 and 16, each received suspended sentences to the Ohio Youth Commission and were continued on probation. Both had been found guilty of violation of probation and school truancy. The court also ordered them to complete 50 hours of community work.
